

COLLABORATION SOLUTIONS

According to a recent survey, ninety-seven percent of employees believe a lack of collaboration delays projects' outcomes. While astounding to most, it's not surprising to GDT's Collaboration Solutions experts. For years, they've been preventing customers from becoming part of that statistic. They deliver to customers a turnkey, quality collaborative experience that blends unified communications, cutting-edge video capabilities and state-of-the-art conferencing services.

GDT's Collaboration Solutions' architects and engineers help keep customers geographically dispersed workforces operating efficiently with strategies and deployments that bridge distance and ensure face-to-face communications are always at the ready.

COLLABORATION SOLUTIONS THAT CONNECT THE WORLD

GDT's Collaboration Solutions team can turn the most complex of environments into a simple-to-use space that feels like a recording studio. Whether using IP connected devices or state-of-the-art conference rooms equipped with hi-def microphone and cameras, GDT Collaboration customers can conduct meetings, seminars, training classes, or deliver the most comprehensive of presentations.

SERVICE PROVIDER OFFERINGS

As a Cisco Master Unified Communications partner, GDT aligns itself with the thought leaders in IT collaborations solutions. GDT's experts can design a solution that reduces infrastructure costs and allows for customization to fit the needs of clients. They also deploy multi-vendor solutions from the Cisco Ecosystem through the following partners:

GDT's professionals understand that a collaboration solution is only as good as the User Experience (UX). For that reason, they help customers maximize adoption, while ensuring the solution remains where it should be—in the background. Whether crafting a solution for call center agents, administrative staff, mobile professionals or C-level executives, they ensure the collaboration platform addresses the precise needs of end users.
